RACE APPRAISAL

This turf route shapes up as a tactical puzzle with Kerry Gold likely setting a moderate early pace as the lone confirmed frontrunner. The track profile tends to favor midpack runners and closers, making it tougher for Kerry Gold to last. Yacowlef (IRE) and Vantastic, who rate top in FIRE, CPR, and Fast Fig categories, will likely be sitting comfortable trips off the pace and should be the main beneficiaries if the pace setter falters late.

Class-wise, Kerry Gold moves up and faces stiffer competition, making him vulnerable despite decent speed. Vantastic holds strong recent form at this level, boosted by Eurton's impressive 27% recent barn success rate. Yacowlef (IRE) brings the strongest recent performance figures to the table, marking him a significant threat. Mackinnon, conditioned by O'Neill, has been competitive and could capitalize on any missteps by the favorites.

Recent workouts point notably to Bizzee Channel, whose barn (Thomas) is hitting at an excellent 26.7%, but this runner has some class hurdles to clear. Atomic Drop also enters sharp, hailing from Mullins' red-hot barn striking at 33%, although he steps up significantly today.

In summary, this race should set up well for horses that can stalk or close effectively, specifically benefiting top-ranked figures like Yacowlef (IRE) and Vantastic. Mackinnon and Atomic Drop deserve attention underneath for exotic wagers, while Kerry Gold could face pressure maintaining the lead in deeper waters.

HORSE COMMENTS

So I'm Told – Likely to track midpack. Steps up notably in class, though has been competitive previously. Solid form but must show he can handle better foes; mild contender.

Yacowlef (IRE) – Strong late-runner holding the top FIRE, CPR, and Fast Fig ranks. Ideal fit on class and recent performances; poised for a strong finish and rates as a solid contender.

Liberal (IRE) – Deep closer whose recent races indicate possible form decline. Faces tougher company today; would be a surprise.

Hurricane Cloud (GB) – Another closer stepping up in class. Recent form decent but might be overmatched here; tough to endorse strongly.

Pass the Baton – Facing a tougher group and questionable recent speed figures; likely to struggle today.

Bizzee Channel – Recent barn success (Thomas, 26.7%) noteworthy. Stepping up in class, though workouts sharp. Mildly interesting at a price.

Kerry Gold – Lone speed, stepping significantly up in class. Could get brave on the front end but likely vulnerable late; cautious optimism only.

Atomic Drop – Steps up in class sharply but in top form for Mullins, who's on fire (33% barn). Could spice up exotics at a decent price; worth considering.

American Empire – Recent form suggests he fits underneath in exotic plays but might struggle to beat the top contenders outright; fringe player.

Mackinnon – Reliable closer with competitive figures and O'Neill's competent barn behind him. Can't rule him out completely; solid threat.

Vantastic – Excellent recent form and proven at this class level. Eurton's strong stats (27%) add confidence; major player and strong contender.

So I'm Told (M.Valenzuela, Jr./A.Aguilar = 11 0-1-2)

RACE CLASS LEVEL (RCL) CHANGES

The Digest adjusts its Race Class Levels (RCL) quarterly, most recently changing when the horses had their Jan 1 'birthday'.

Since that date, we have updated our current RCL charts to better reflect inflation and today's smaller horse population. We will occasionally run the updated RCL chart, but we'll send you a copy if you email the Digest @ info@todaysracingdigest.com

The biggest changes this quarter come in the 3-yr division, as we have lowered the Stakes, Allowance and Maiden RCLs from 5 to 20 points, with the Stakes being lowered the most to reflect the fact that horses will now move directly from Maiden and NW1 Allowance wins into Stakes.

We also lowered the older claiming races, starting at the $32,000 level, by 5 points and have lowered Classified Allowances from a base of 185 to 170 since they are now mostly commonly found as part of NW2 Allowance races. We'll bump the RCL up if the race is part of a NW3 or NW4 Allowance, but such races are few and far between these days.

The latest update began on July 1. The final update will be Oct 1. We've increased RCL's for 2-yr and 3-yr racing for quarter 3.
